

ECONOMICS 102

Principles of Microeconomics with Professor Shoshana Grossbard

Spring 2016 (prepared January 15)

Syllabus, including Calendar

Course number: 21129

Meeting Times: Th 12:30-13:45. This is a hybrid course. You must view the virtual lecture posted on Blackboard BEFORE coming to class. Try to allocate every Tuesday 12:30 to 13:45 to this course, perhaps meet with class mates during that time.

I can be contacted via Email: shosh@mail.sdsu.edu; or come visit me during Office hours: Tuesdays 10:15 to 10:50 and Thursdays 14:30 to 15:30 at Nasatir Hall Room 307. You can call me during my office hours at 619 594 5468. Let us talk about you, economics, or... in English, French, Dutch, Hebrew, or Spanish. You can also request a meeting at another time. My webpage: <http://www-rohan.sdsu.edu/faculty/sgs/index.html>. I blog to my 102 students on www.facebook.com/basicecon (760 likes) and linked twitter account @shoshecon.

Course Description:

From Catalog: “Principles of economic analysis, economic institutions, and issues of public policy. Emphasis on [direction of] production, allocation of resources, and distribution of income, through the price system (microanalysis); and international economics.”

Expanded Course Description:

- We look at the hidden roles that pricing systems play in shaping the world around us and our behavior as human beings. We try to get underneath common sense notions (which are often wrong).
- We try to figure out how people use money and time regarding consumption and home production.
- We inspect the process of allocation of resources and pricing by firms. We describe some aspects of industrial organization.
- We study how households supply labor and capital. We briefly discuss other household decisions such as marriage and investments in own health and health of loved ones.
- We investigate the US and the global economy.

Student Learning Outcomes:

- Making the Invisible Visible: learn to identify patterns and to see markets around you.
- Learning major tools of micro-economic analysis, what they can reveal, and how you can use economics to make better decisions.
- Thinking sensibly about how people behave in market economies and societies.
- Determining how changes in supply and/or demand change market price and quantity.
- Understanding the advantages of a market system and the helpful role of prices.
- Figuring out better how government policies affect markets.
- Better understanding of foreign exchange markets.

Required Tools:

- Blackboard (Bb): you are responsible for checking info (new content and announcements) about this class on Bb a few times a week. Please access at <https://blackboard.sdsu.edu/>. This is how you will
 - get access to remote lectures which you have to follow before the next class meets
 - find out about your assignments and your grades.
- Required Book and companion interactive course tool that is tied to the textbook and that you will need to prepare your assignments and practice for tests: McConnell, Brue and Flynn (MBF) Microeconomics, 20th edition, + Connect (Economics), by McGraw Hill. Also included in CONNECT: LearnSmart, SmartBook (an adaptive textbook that creates a personalized reading and learning path for each chapter), eBook, review helps, additional assignments, and remedial learning modules for math, stats, and basic economics.
 - The custom bundle for purchase is 9781259623769 and includes a loose-leaf paper version of MBF and CONNECT PLUS. The price is $138.49 at Aztec bookstore and $130.99 at KB bookstore. Say my name and KB will drop another 5 $.
 - You can purchase CONNECT PLUS separately. It includes E-BOOK and SmartBook versions of MBF.
- Required Clicker: i>clicker2. You are required to have an i>clicker2 for in-class participation. i>clicker2 is a response system that allows you to answer questions posed during class. Available at the bookstore. You can also purchase the app for your smartphone (about the same price). You will be graded on your feedback and/or your in-class participation. For more information on activation, see below.
- Not required: attendance. However, by attending you can earn clicker points.

Recommended (but not required) Learning Resources:

- Student resources under the Connect Library tab.
- The Wall Street Journal: printed or electronic. Great source of news about economics. Price for students:
- Learning partners. It makes it even more fun to study economics with study partners! Another advantage of partnership is that if you are absent, a partner can update you on what you missed. Class consultations with fellow students are forbidden during exams, but they are allowed when clicker questions are asked on a non-exam day.
- Take advantage of tutors in the econ department. Register at Nasatir Room 329 after I let you know that it started.
- A variety of blogs such as <http://www.freakonomics.com/blog/>, <http://www.marginalrevolution.com/>, www.facebook.com/econoflove (1198 likes) and @econoflove on twitter (2387 followers) [hint: I m econoflove!]

Assessment and Grading

Four exams worth 75 points each:	300 points
'Connect' assignments	100 points
Participation points	100 points (max)
GRAND TOTAL:	500 points

No extra credit options available.

More about exams:

- Four required exams, the last during finals week. Exam dates in calendar below except for last exam during finals week. No early or make-up exams will be given.
- Review sessions will be held during long-distance lectures. Please send me questions so that review sessions are better calibrated to your needs.
- Bring narrow red scantron forms to exams.
- You are allowed to bring a page of handwritten notes to exams (written on one side).
- Average grade on each exam will be set to equal at least 70/100 which amounts to C (see grading criteria below). Total scores rounded at end of semester.
- Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: Students with disabilities who need support services are encouraged to notify the instructor as soon as possible. This can be done confidentially via email or by phone (see instructor contact information).
- Cheating: SDSU has an office in charge of handling cheating cases. I hate dealing with that office. Please do your part so we can avoid them.

More about assignments:

- You will be getting 9 assignments; 8 of them count (100 points = 8 x 12.5 points per assignment); assignment with lowest grade will be dropped from the count by instructor.
- Assignments will be posted on Connect. Students missing the first assignment due to late registration have to complete all other 8.

More about participation points:

There are two main ways to earn participation points: clicker points and virtual lecture points. Total participation is capped at 100 points.

More about clicker points:

- Activating your clicker: it needs to be registered on the SDSU Blackboard site for this course. Instructions can be found here: <http://clicker.sdsu.edu/studentFAQ.html#6>. This is the ONLY registration it needs. Don't register on the clicker website!
- No credit if you don't have your clicker or it is not working. It will only work if it is registered on your SDSU Blackboard course (not the i>clicker company site!!!).
- Keep extra batteries available (two AA).
- i>clicker2 will be used every class day except for exam days.
- Clicking for other students who cannot attend class is considered cheating.
- Put your name on your clicker and cover the ID number with a piece of clear tape to protect it from rubbing off.

More about virtual lectures points:

You get points for watching the videos I post on blackboard that present materials for this class. if you watch all segments that are part of a particular virtual lecture you earn 3 points. If you watch most of the segments you get 2 points; if you watch some (but not most) you get 1 point

Note: there will be 14 virtual lectures
